City of Trenton Launches New Tool for Residents to Report Dangerous Blight Directly to City Inspectors and Leadership

Mayor W. Reed Gusciora announced that he is expanding public input in his strategic demolition plan by creating a more streamlined portal that Trenton residents can use to report dangerous neglected properties directly to City officials. Trenton recently launched <https://trentondemolition.com/>, which outlines recently completed demolitions, current projects, and sites under review. A new reporting tool can be found at the bottom-right of ...
